LAURENCE H. SILBERMAN, 45, is executive vice president in charge of legal and government affairs for Crocker Bank. He joined Crocker in 1979 after a distinguished career in law and government.

Silberman was admitted to the Hawaii Bar in 1962 and served on its ethics committee. From 1964 to 1967, he was a partner in the firm of Moore, Silberman & Schultze in Honolulu. From 1965 to 1967, he served on the American Bar Association Labor Law Committee.

In 1969, Silberman was appointed solicitor of labor (general counsel) in the U.S. Labor Department and, in 1970, became the Under Secretary of Labor, a position he held until 1973. During that period, he was an alternate member of the Cost of Living Council; a member of the Economic Stabilization Planning Subcommittee and chairman of an Inter-agency Committee on Trade Legislation Amendments.

He was admitted to the District of Columbia Bar in 1973 and was a partner in Steptoe & Johnson in the nation's capitol.

During 1974-1975, he served as the deputy attorney general of the United States.

Silberman served as U.S. ambassador to Yugoslavia from 1975-1977, and in 1976 was the President's special envoy to the European Community, Japan, Australia and Canada on International Labor Organization Affairs.

During 1977-1978, Silberman was a senior fellow at the American Enterprise Institute. He is a visiting fellow of the institute and a member of the Council of Foreign Relations.

Before joining Crocker, Silberman was the managing partner of the Washington office of Morrison & Foerster.

He is a member of the American Bar Association Corporation and Banking Committee, vice chairman of the Republican National Committee's General Government Advisory Committee, and a member of the Editorial Board of Regulation and Public Opinion magazines.

Silberman received his AB degree in 1957 from Dartmouth College and his LLB degree from Harvard Law School in 1961.
